§ 20. Local boards of health.—There shall continue to be local boards of health and health officers in the several cities, villages and towns of the state. In the cities except New York, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Albany and Yonkers, the board shall consist of the mayor of the city, who shall be its president, and at least six other persons, one of whom shall be a competent physician, who shall be appointed by the common council, upon the nomination of the mayor, and shall hold office for three years. Appointments of members of such boards shall be made for such shorter terms as at any time may be necessary, in order that the terms of two appointed members shall expire annually. The board shall appoint a competent physician, not one of its members, to be the health officer of the city. In villages the board shall consist of more than seven persons, who shall be appointed at the nomination of the village; the members shall at their first meeting be divided into three classes, whose terms respectively expire in one, two and three years. The appointment of said boards shall be made immediately after the election held prior to their appointment, unless removed by the appointment of said boards. Each board shall elect a president and an attorney, not a member of the board of the village. In towns the board shall consist of the town board and a competent physician, who shall be appointed by the common council, upon the nomination of the mayor, and shall hold office for three years. Appointments of members of such boards shall be made for such shorter terms as at any time may be necessary, in order that the terms of two appointed members shall expire annually. The board shall appoint a competent physician, not one of its members, to be the health officer of the town. In villages the board shall consist of more than seven persons, who shall be appointed at the nomination of the village; the members shall at their first meeting be divided into three classes, whose terms respectively expire in one, two and three years. The appointment of said boards shall be made immediately after the election held prior to their appointment, unless removed by the appointment of said boards. Each board shall elect a president and an attorney, not a member of the board of the village. In towns the board shall consist of the town board and a competent physician, who shall be appointed by the common council, upon the nomination of the mayor, and shall hold office for three years. Appointments of members of such boards shall be made for such shorter terms as at any time may be necessary, in order that the terms of two appointed members shall expire annually. The board shall appoint a competent physician, not one of its members, to be the health officer of the town.
In the cities of New York, Buffalo, and Yonkers, the board of health shall consist of the mayor and, at least six other members, one of whom shall be a competent physician, appointed by the city council. The board shall hold office for two years and shall continue in office until their successors are appointed unless removed therefrom; provided, however, that the board may be increased by a majority of the council at any time. The board shall elect a president and appoint a competent physician, not a member of the board, to be the health officer of the city. In towns the board of health shall consist of the town board and another citizen of the town of full age biennially appointed by the town board at a meeting thereof after each biennial town meeting for the term of two years from and after such town meeting and until his successor is appointed. Such board of health shall annually appoint a competent physician to be the health officer of the town. If the proper au-authorities shall not fill any vacancies occurring in any local board within thirty days after the happening of such vacancy, the county judge of the county shall appoint a competent person to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term, which appointment shall be immediately filed in the office of the county clerk, and a duplicate thereof filed with the clerk of the municipality for which such appointment is made. Notice of the membership and organization of every local board of health shall be forthwith given by such board to the state board of health. The term "municipality", when used in this article, means the city, village or town for which any such local board may be or is appointed.

As to power of state commissioner of health to act where municipal authorities fail to establish a local board of health under the provisions of above section, see § 21, ante.

In case the local authorities fail to comply with the provisions of this section, any citizen of the municipality may apply to the court for a mandamus to compel the trustees to appoint a board of health, it being a fixed and established rule of this state that every citizen has a right to compel the performance by public officers, of the duty imposed upon them of executing the laws of the state, which are enacted for the benefit of the community. People ex rel. Boltzer v. Daley et al., 37 Hun, 461.

Under section 20 of the Public Health Law the common council is vested with discretion in the matter of appointing the nominees of the mayor, and cannot be compelled to do so by mandamus. Matter of City of Rensselaer, 31 Misc. 512; 64 N. Y. Supp. (98 St. Rep.) 704.

The determination of a county judge as to whether a vacancy in the membership of a board of health should be filled without delay, is a matter of discretion. The fact that a member of the board of health has a temporary residence during the winter months in a city a short distance from the village of removal from the village as to make a veteran is not entitled to preferment as a member of the board of health of a village. Trustees of Saratoga Springs, 35 App. St. Rep.) 1083; affd., 159 N. Y. 568.

The office of a member of a village board of health is not an office and his oath of office should be administered. Matter of Board of Health of City of Rochester, 63 How. Pr. 103.

As an officer of the state, a health officer is an officer of the Service Law and the rules and regulations of the commission.

The rules of the civil service commission, as amended to May 1, 1902, provide:

§ 21. General powers and duties of local boards of health.

— Every such local board of health shall meet at stated intervals to be fixed by it, in the municipality. The presiding officer of every such board may call special meetings thereof where in his judgment the protection of the public health of the municipality requires it, and he shall call such meeting upon the petition of at least twenty-five residents thereof, of full age, setting forth the necessity of such meeting. Every such local board shall prescribe the duties and powers of the local health officer, who shall be its chief executive officer, and direct him in the performance of his duties, and fix his compensation. Every such local board shall make and publish from time to time all such orders and regulations as they may deem necessary and proper for the preservation of life and health, and the execution and enforcement of the public health law in the municipality. It shall make without publication thereof, such orders and regulations for the suppression of nuisances, and concerning all other matters in its judgment detrimental to the public health in special or individual cases, not of general application, and serve copies thereof upon the owner or occupant of any premises whereon such nuisances or other matters may exist, or post the same in some conspicuous place thereon. It may employ such persons as shall be necessary to enable it to carry into effect its orders and regulations, and fix their compensation. It may issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses, administer oaths to witnesses and compel them to testify, and for such purposes it shall have the same powers as a justice of the peace of the state in a civil action of which he has jurisdiction. It may designate by resolution one of its members to sign and issue such subpoenas. No subpoena shall be served outside the jurisdiction of the board issuing it, and no witness shall be interrogated or compelled to testify upon matters judicially incidental to the public health. It may issue warrants for the apprehension or arrest of any person, and an order to a constable or policeman of the municipality to remove such persons as can not otherwise be restrained to its orders or regulations, and a warrant to a justice or policeman of the county to bring to its aid the police of the county whenever it shall be necessary to do so. Whenever it shall be necessary to do so, it may employ such persons as shall be necessary to carry into effect such orders and regulations. Whenever such local board of health of a incorporated village shall deem the sewers insufficient to properly and safely sewers sufficient for the protection of the public health, it shall write to the board of trustees of the village, and recommending what additions or alterations in the judgment of such board of trustees shall immediately convene thereof, of full age, setting forth

of the county to bring to its aid the power of the county whenever it shall be necessary to do so. Every war-directed, who shall have the same powers and be subject to the same duties in the execution thereof, as if it had been duly issued out of a court of record of the state. Every such local board may prescribe and impose penalties for the violation of or failure to comply with any of its orders or regulations, not exceeding one hundred dollars for a single violation or failure, to be sued for and recovered by it in the name and for the benefit of the municipality; and to maintain actions in any court of competent jurisdiction to restrain by injunction such violations, or otherwise to enforce such orders and regulations.

Whenever such local board of health in any incorporated village shall deem the sewers of such village insufficient to properly and safely sewer such village, and protect the public health, it shall certify such fact in writing to the board of trustees of such village, stating and recommending what additions or alterations should in the judgment of such board of health be made with its reasons therefor, and thereupon such board of trusrecommendations, and if approved by such board of trustees, the same shall be certified to the state board of health for its approval, and if such recommendation shall be approved by the state board of health, it shall be the duty of the board of trustees of such village to forthwith make such additions to or alterations in the sewers of such village and execute such recommendation, and the expenses thereof shall be paid for by said village in the same manner as other village expenses are paid and said village is hereby authorized to raise such sum as may be necessary for the payment of the expenses incurred, as herein provided, in addition to the amount such village is now authorized to raise by law for corporation purposes, and such board of trustees shall have the right to acquire such lands, rights of way, or other easements, by gift, or purchase, or in case the same can not be acquired by purchase the board of trustees may acquire the same by condemnation in the manner provided by law.

Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, § 3, subds. 1, 6-10, and L. 1888, ch. 146. As amended by L. 1895, chs. 203 and 928.

See notes under §§ 25, 30, 31, post.

The legislature, in the exercise of its constitutional authority, may lawfully confer on boards of health, the power to enact sanitary ordinances having the force of law within the districts over which their jurisdiction extends. Under Public Health Law (§ 21), an allowance of $20 per day to a special physician employed by a city board of health to attend in person the treatment of a small-pox patient, is an addition to his salary for such service.—Enos v. Mt. Vernon, 58 App. Div. 581; 50 N. Y. S. 1024.

The provision of the statute for a penalty of $100 for any violation of regulations of milk in a city to register each year beyond the number of permits to sell milk in the city for one year, is valid.—Flushing v. Carraher, 87 Hun, 631, reversing 57 Hun, 216.

if approved by such board of trustees of such village to employ a special physician for the purpose, at a compensation not to exceed $20 per day,—Held, not entitled to compensation in addition to his monthly salary for such services. Reynolds v. City of Mt. Vernon, 26 App. Div. 581; 50 N. Y. Supp. 473.

Under Public Health Law (§ 21), authorizing local boards of health to make such regulation as they deem necessary for the preservation of health, a regulation by such board requiring vendors of milk in a city to register each year before receiving a license to sell milk in the city for one year, is valid. City of Gloversville v. Enos, 35 Misc. 724; 74 N. Y. S. (1st St. Rep.) 398.

The fee of one dollar charged for registration is not considered a tax, and therefore such regulation is not void as to an honorably discharged soldier, authorized under the law to sell goods by procuring a license, without cost. He must register to avoid the penalty prescribed by such regulation. Id.

A board of health has no power to make a regulation which conflicts with the powers of quarantine officers. People v. Roff, 3 Park. 266.

The legislature may, in the interests of public health, vest the power in city councils to pass ordinances requiring either the filling up or draining of excavations upon land, within the corporate limits, which are filled with stagnant, foul, and unwholesome water, and an ordinance passed pursuant to such authority, has the same force as an act passed by the legislature itself. Rochester v. Simpson, 134 N. Y. 414; 47 St. Rep. 645; reversing 57 Hun, 36.

A board of health deriving its powers from section 21 of the Public Health Law, enacted an ordinance as follows: “No cows shall be kept within 200 feet of any dwelling in the village of Flushing, without a special permit obtained from the board of health.” In an action brought to recover the penalty for a violation of this ordinance, it was held, that the ordinance was invalid; that while it would have been competent for it to have made a general regulation forbidding the keeping of cows within 200 feet of a dwelling-house, the board, by the use of the words “without a special permit,” had reserved to itself the power of licensing cow stables in certain cases, a power not conferred by the statute. Village of Flushing v. Carraker, 87 Hun, 63.

The provision of the statute for a penalty “not exceeding one hundred dollars” for a single violation is permissible to local boards of health. The acts of the board, however, must be definite and certain. Accordingly where a board of health made a regulation in terms which were a mere repetition of the language of the statute, and an action was brought to recover a penalty against a physician for failure to perform a prescribed duty, held, that as no definite penalty was fixed by the resolution of the board, none could be recovered. McNall et al. v. Kales, 61 Hun, 231.

By virtue of section 21 of the Public Health Law, a village board of health is authorized to make and publish orders and regulations for the suppression of nuisances and to carry them into effect, to employ such persons as may be necessary for the purpose and to fix their compensation, and it is not requisite that a nuisance should be declared, before assistants are employed, but their employment may be proper for the purpose of inspecting and reporting upon a given situation, concerning which no rule or regulation has yet been made. Kent v. Village of North Tarrytown, 50 App. Div. 502; 64 N. Y. Supp. 178.

Ordinances adopted by the board of health of a town, under the Public Health Law, forbidding the having or keeping within the town of any refuse vegetable or animal matter in a decayed or decaying condition, and the boiling or cooking of garbage or refuse in any open vat or kettle so as to permit exhalations to escape into the surrounding air, held reasonable and valid. Town of Newtown v. Lyons, 11 App. Div. 105; 42 N. Y. Supp. 241.

Where the legislature has fixed a standard of limitation or rights, it is not competent for a board of health to impose additional restrictions. Metropolitan Board of Health v. Schmades, 10 Abb. Pr. (N. S.) 205; 3 Daly, 282.

A sanitary code, adopted by a board of health under a statute, has the force of a statute, even when it forbids and prescribes a penalty for offenses at common law. People ex rel. Meyer v. Special Sessions, 12 Week. Dig. 357.

Where the legislature has authorized a board of health to legislate upon certain subjects, the power conferred necessarily involves the exercise of discretion, and no court can review the acts of the board in respect to matters within its jurisdiction. People v. Board of Health, 33 Barb. 344.

§ 22. Vital statistics.—Every supervisor of vital statistics shall supervise and make complete records of all births, marriages and deaths occurring within the municipal corporation, and the cause of death shall be determined by the coroner's juries, in accordance with the forms prescribed by the state board of health. After registration, promptly forward such births, marriages and deaths to the state and federal boards of vital statistics. Penal Code Provision.

§ 396. Obstructing health officer in performance of his duty.—A person who willfully opposes or obstructs a health officer or physician charged with the enforcement of the health laws, in performing any legal duty, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 22. Vital statistics.—Every such local board shall supervise and make complete the registration of all births, marriages and deaths occurring within the municipality, and the cause of death and the finding of coroner’s juries, in accordance with the methods and forms prescribed by the state board of health, and, after registration, promptly forward the certificates of such births, marriages and deaths to the state bureau of vital statistics. Every physician or midwife attending at the birth of a child, and no physician or midwife being in attendance, the parent or custodian of a child born, and every groom, officiating clergyman or magistrate at every marriage shall cause a certificate of such birth or marriage to be returned within thirty days thereafter to the local board of health or person designated by it to receive the same, which shall be attested, if a birth, by the physician or midwife, if any in attendance, no physician or midwife being in attendance, by the parent or custodian of a child born, and, if a marriage, by the officiating clergyman or magistrate. The person making such certificate shall be entitled to the sum of twenty-five cents therefor, which shall be a charge upon, and paid by the municipality where such birth, marriage or death occurred. The cost of such registration, not exceeding twenty-five cents for the complete registered record of a birth, marriage or death, shall be a charge upon the municipality. The charge for a copy thereof shall be fixed by the board, not exceeding the same sum for a complete copy of a single registered record and the additional sum of twenty-five cents if certified to. Such copy shall be furnished upon request of any person, and when certified to be correct by the president or secretary of the board or local registering officer designated by it shall be presumptive evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated.

It is the duty of a board of health (of New York), to register all unrecorded births upon application being made therefor by the parents or guardians of such children. Matter of Lauterjung, 48 N.Y. Supr. (16 J. & S.) 308.

The statute imposes upon every local board of health the duty of supervising and making complete the registration of all births, marriages, and deaths occurring within its jurisdiction; and the cost of so doing, not to exceed the amount prescribed in the act, is a town charge, which must be audited and allowed by the board of town auditors. People v. Board of Auditors, 34 Hun, 336.

While it was the primary object of the legislature to furnish information on the subject of vital statistics for sanitary purposes, yet the language employed is broad enough to make certificates of the cause of death of persons, on file in the office of the clerk of the town in which such persons died, although not under oath, admissible in evidence upon the trial of an action, and such certificates are prima facie evidence of the facts therein set forth. Woolsey v. Trustees of Ellenville, 84 Hun, 236; 35 St. Rep. 412.

In every local board of health the duty of complete the registration of all births, marriages within its jurisdiction; and the cost of the amount prescribed in the act, is a town limited and allowed by the board of town auditors, 34 Hun, 336.

Wool-er, 84 Hun, 236; 35 St. Rep. 412.

Local boards of health. Every such local sanitary regulations for the burial permits for the transportation of any corpse which is to be carried for burial beyond the county where the death occurred. Where such persons are appointed by the board of health of any town, one of such persons shall be the town clerk of such town. Every undertaker, sexton or other person having charge of any corpse, shall procure a certificate of the death and the probable cause duly certified by the physician in attendance upon the deceased during his last illness, or by the coroner where an inquisition is required by law, and if no physician was in attendance, and no inquest has been held or required by law, an affidavit stating the circumstances, time and cause of death, and sworn to by some credible person known to the officer granting the permit, and there shall be no burial or removal of a corpse until such certificate or affidavit has been presented to the local board or to the person designated by it, and thereupon a permit for such burial or removal has been obtained. When application is made for a permit to transport a corpse over any railroad or upon any passenger steamboat within the state, the board of health, or the officers to whom such application is made, shall require such corpse to be inclosed in a hermetically sealed casket of metal or other indestructible material, if the cause of death shall have been from a contagious or infectious disease.

Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, § 3, subd. 5; L. 1886, ch. 329, § 1, and L. 1888, ch. 309. As amended by L. 1899, ch. 211.

A permit for the burial of the dead, with a transit permit obtained from the board of health of the place where the death occurs, authorizes the body to be buried either in the county where the death occurred or in any other county, without any permit in the latter case from the local board of health. Eickelberg v. Board of Health of Newton, 47 Hun, 371.

§ 24. Contagious and infectious diseases.—Every such local board of health shall guard against the introduction of contagious and infectious diseases by the exercise of proper and vigilant medical inspection and control of all persons and things arriving in the municipality from infected places, or which from any cause are liable to communicate contagion. It shall require the isolation of all persons and things infected with or exposed to such diseases, and provide suitable places for the treatment and care of sick persons who can not otherwise be provided for. It shall prohibit and prevent all intercourse and communication with or use of infected premises, places and things, and require, and, if necessary, provide the means for the thorough purification and cleansing of the same before general intercourse with the same or use thereof shall be allowed. It shall report to the state board of health, promptly, the facts relating to contagious and infectious diseases, and every case of small-pox or varioloid within the municipality. Health officers of villages and towns shall report in writing once a month to the state board of health all cases of such infectious and contagious diseases as may be required by the state board of health, and for such reporting the health officer shall be paid by the municipality employing him, upon the certification of the state board of health, a sum not to exceed twenty cents for each case so reported; and the health officer shall report annually on the first day of January in each year the number of persons which have existed in the county during that year, and for each case thereof receive a sum not to exceed ten dollars in the same manner as the other like returns. It shall provide, at stated intervals, a supply of vaccine virus, of a quality and fit for use by the state board of health, and at the outbreak of small-pox obtain fresh stocks of vaccinia virus, of a quality and fit for use by the state board of health, at intervals not exceeding one month, and provide thorough and safe vaccinia for inoculation; and, in case an epidemic of small-pox obtain fresh stocks of vaccine virus, of a quality and fit for use by the state board of health, at intervals not exceeding one month, and provide thorough and safe vaccinia for inoculation; and, in case an epidemic of small-pox obtains, require the health officers of villages and towns to report in writing once a month to the state board all cases of small-pox, with the facts relating to such cases, and the date when they were notified; and require the state board to pay the health officer an additional sum not to exceed ten dollars for each case so reported; and in case the disease is likely to endanger the health of the county or the state, the county superintendent of the state airport, or the physician attending the patients, or any of them to be removed or transferred to any other county or the state airport, shall provide a suitable place in the county as the case may require, and the expense of the same shall be paid by the county to such almshouse or other place. The boards of health of the cities of Buffalo, Albany and Yonkers, shall report to the state board all cases of small-pox, yellow fever and cholera and the facts relating thereto.

It shall require the removing and providing suitable places for the reception of sick persons who can not be cared for. It shall prohibit and prevent all communication with or use of sick and things infected with or exposed to infection, and provide suitable places for the reception of sick persons who can not be cared for. It shall provide, at stated intervals, a suitable supply of vaccine virus, of a quality and from a source approved by the state board of health, and during an actual epidemic of small-pox obtain fresh supplies of such virus at intervals not exceeding one week, and at all times provide thorough and safe vaccination for all persons in need of the same. If a pestilential, infectious or contagious disease exists in any county almshouse or its vicinity, and the physician thereof shall certify that such disease is likely to endanger the health of its inmates, the county superintendent of the poor may cause such inmates or any of them to be removed to such other suitable place in the county as the local board of health of the municipality where the almshouse is situated may designate, and there to be maintained and provided for at the expense of the county, with all necessary medical care and attendance until they shall be safely returned to such almshouse or otherwise discharged. The boards of health of the cities of New York, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Albany and Yonkers, shall report promptly to the state board all cases of small-pox, typhus and yellow fever and cholera and the facts relating thereto.

Under section 24, a board of health has power, during an epidemic of small-pox, to quarantine persons who have been exposed to the disease and are liable to be seized with and communicate it to others. Matter of Smith, 84 Hun, 405; 65 St. Rep. 474; 32 N. Y. Supp. 317.

The court of appeals in case last cited, while holding the same doctrine as above stated, in a proper case, reversed the decision of the court below, upon the ground that the facts shown did not warrant the isolation and detention of the relator. Matter of Smith, 146 N. Y. 68, 78.

The determination of a sanitary inspector in ordering a person suffering from small-pox to be taken to the small-pox hospital, is final as to the legality or propriety of such removal. Brown v. Purdy, 8 St. Rep. 143.

The provisions of the general statute relating to local boards of health do not authorize the quarantine of a person who might have been exposed to small-pox, although he refused to be vaccinated, but conditions for the communication of the disease must have existed in the particular case. Smith v. Emery, 11 App. Div. 10; 42 N. Y. Supp. 258, citing Matter of Smith, 146 N. Y. 68.

Where a local board of health incurs expense in the performance of the duty imposed by the Public Health Law (§ 24) in guarding against the introduction of contagious or infectious diseases, or the isolation of infected persons or things, or in providing suitable places for the care of the sick who cannot otherwise be provided for, it becomes the duty of the municipal authorities to comply with the order of the board of health in that regard, whether there is any provision to that effect in the charter or not. Matter of Plattsburgh, 157 N. Y. 78, reversing S. C., 27 App. Div. 353.

A board of health has no power and cannot take and occupy premises as a pesthouse without the owner's consent. Boom v. City of Utica, 2 Barb. 104.

§ 25. Nuisances.—Every such local board shall receive and examine into all complaints made by any inhabitant concerning nuisances, or causes of danger or jury to life and health within the municipality, and may enter upon or within any place or premises where uisances or conditions dangerous to life and health are known or believed to exist, and by its members or other persons designated for that purpose, inspect and of any such premises shall permit such sanitary examinations to be made, and the board shall furnish such owners, agents and occupants with a written statement of the results and conclusions of any such examination.

Every such local board shall order the suppression and removal of all nuisances and conditions detrimental to life and health found to exist within the municipality.
Whenever the state board of health or its president and secretary shall by notice to the presiding officer of any local board of health, request him to convene such local board to take certain definite proceedings concerning which the state board of health or its president and secretary shall be satisfied that the action recommended by them is necessary for the public good, and is within the jurisdiction of such board of health, such presiding officer shall convene such local board, which shall take the action recommended.

Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, § 3, subds. 1, 4.

Although sections 21 and 25 of the Public Health Law confer upon the board of health power without publication to make such orders and regulations for the suppression of nuisances and concerning all other matters in its judgment detrimental to the public health in special or individual cases, not of general application, it is, at least, an open question whether the construction of a drain, which is in reality a sewer, should not have been undertaken by the village authorities (board of trustees) instead of by the board of health. People ex rel. Govers v. New Rochelle, 17 App. Div. 603, 604, 605; 45 N. Y. Supp. 836.

A village board of health has no power to delegate authority to an officer of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals to exercise its own right to kill horses afflicted with glanders. Westchester Electric R. Co. v. Angevine, 52 App. Div. 239; 65 N. Y. Supp. (99 St. Rep.) 376.

The discharge of hotel sewage into a stream of water, so as to pollute it and render it unfit for domestic uses by the riparian owners below, is not justified by an order of the board of health, which has no power to make such an order. Mann v. Willey, 57 App. Div. 169; 64 N. Y. Supp. (98 St. Rep.) 589.

A board of health has no power to declare a business a nuisance, without notice to the offending party, and giving him an opportunity to be heard. People ex rel. Savage v. The Board of Health, 33 Barb. 344; 12 Abb. Pr. 88; 20 How. Pr. 458.

Certiorari is the proper remedy to review a determination of a board of health as to the existence and abatement of a nuisance; a board of health before a final determination as to a nuisance, should give a reasonable notice to the person against whose rights the decision will operate, to enable him to defend himself; the omission of such notice is fatally defective. People ex rel. N Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. v. Board of Health of Seneca Falls, 58 Hun, 595; 35 St. Rep. 411.

A board of health may invoke the aid of the courts to restrain a violation of its order and to abate a nuisance, although the cause thereof arises in an adjoining municipality. Gould v. City of Rochester, 105 N. Y. 46, reversing 39 Hun, 79.

To justify a health officer in condemning things deleterious to health, the fact of their being such or likely to become so must be shown, so as to make a case calling for the exercise of his discretion. Underwood v. Green, 42 N. Y. 140, reversing 26 Sup. Ct. Rep. (3 Rob.) 86.

Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, § 4.

It is within the discretionary power of a board of health to suppress a business of rendering dead animals, after proper notice. Cushing v. Board of Health, 13 St. Rep. 783.

An owner failed, upon notice, to abate a nuisance resulting from the clogging of a sewer connecting a privy vault with the main sewer, and, it appearing that all that was necessary to do to render the vault inoffensive was to have it cleaned, the board of health has no right to put in a new sewer and new water-flushed closets at the expense of the owner. Eckhardt v. Buffalo, 19 App. Div. 1; affd., 136 N. Y. 658.

A board of health has power to abate a public nuisance in a summary manner; but whether the thing directed to be abated is, or is not, a public nuisance, is a jurisdictional fact; the board cannot declare that to be a nuisance which is not. Coe v. Schultz, 47 Barb. 64; 2 Abb. Pr. (N. S.) 193. See also Schuster v. Met. Board of Health, 49 Barb. 450; Hoffman v. Schultz, 31 How. Pr. 385.

Where a business is so carried on as to be a public nuisance per se, the board of health has power to abate it, where notice to show cause has been duly served and disregarded by the parties.
Where a board of health, having jurisdiction of the subject-matter, has heard the parties and determined that certain premises are a nuisance, and took steps to abate it "as a sanitary necessity," an injunction restraining such action to abate the nuisance was properly dissolved. Cool v. Buffalo, 16 Week. Dig. 8.

A board of health of a city has power and authority to remove, or cause to be removed, a building or part of a building which, by reason of a fire, has become a nuisance and dangerous to the lives of persons traveling along the street, and is under no obligation to barricade the sidewalks so as to prevent its use. In such a case however the board of health, if its action is called in question, must be prepared to show that the condition of the building was dangerous to the public, and as such was a nuisance. Smith v. Irish, 37 App. Div. 220; 55 N. Y. Supp. (89 St. Rep.) 837.

An ordinance, adopted by the board of health of a municipal corporation pursuant to legislative authority, prohibiting the maintenance of any privy vault within twenty-five feet of any residence and declaring the same to be a nuisance, is a reasonable regulation; and where the owner of the premises upon which such a vault exists, after notice to appear before the board, which he does not comply with, fails to abate the nuisance, the board may declare that particular vault a nuisance, and abate the same as detrimental to public health, by filling it with earth. Cartwright v. City of Cohoes, 39 App. Div. 69; 56 N. Y. Supp. (90 St. Rep.) 731; affd., 165 N. Y. 631.

The owner of premises, although not in possession, is liable for the maintenance of a nuisance thereon, where he receives rent with knowledge thereof. Board of Health v. Valentine, 32 St. Rep. 919.

Where it is sought to make a party liable by reason of an order of a board of health, there must be legal evidence that such order was made by the board. Mere service of notice is not legal proof of the action of the board. Lees v. Ritterman, 9 Misc. 476; 61 St. Rep. 174.

In an action for maintaining a nuisance, the decision and determination of a board of health, upon an ex parte examination, not in the presence of the defendant, is not admissible against them. Hochstrasser v. Martin, 62 Hun, 165; 41 St. Rep. 761.

The fact that others contributed to the nuisance is no defense for maintaining it. City of Yonkers v. Copcutt, 71 Hun, 149; 54 St. Rep. 311; 24 N. Y. Supp. 625.
Local Boards of Health.

A board of health may abate a nuisance of a public character, and exercise every power necessary to this end, and as an incident to such power may make a permanent improvement to prevent a recurrence of the nuisance, provided the work bears a necessary and legitimate relation to the abatement of the nuisance; but it cannot go into the domain of public improvement and erect buildings and construct drains not necessary to the abatement of a nuisance and impose the burden upon the individual or his property, especially where the charter of the city provides for action in the premises by the common council. Haag v. City of Mt. Vernon, 41 App. Div. 366; 58 N. Y. Supp. (92 St. Rep.) 581.

Whoever, in abating an alleged nuisance, injures private property or interferes with private rights, whether he be a public officer or private person, save when he acts under the judgment or order of a court having jurisdiction, acts at his peril, and this principle is applicable to boards of health. Eckhardt v. City of Buffalo, 19 App. Div. 1; 46 N. Y. Supp. (80 St. Rep.) 204.

Under the general language of the statute, requiring orders for the suppression of nuisances to be served "upon the owner or occupant of any premises whereon such nuisances may exist, and, in case of disobedience or failure to comply with such order, authorizing the removal of the nuisance, and making the expense thereof a charge on the occupant, an order directed to the owner, but served upon his agent who was the occupant, does not require the agent to remove the nuisance, and will not sustain an action against him." Lydecker et al. v. Eells, 20 St. Rep. 886; 3 N. Y. Supp. 323.

The determination of a board of health as to a nuisance is not final and conclusive, and the members and all persons, acting under their authority in abating an alleged nuisance act at their peril. A board of health has the right to act upon its own inspection and knowledge of an alleged nuisance and is not obliged to hear anybody. If it is challenged in a court it must make it appear that the thing abated was in fact a nuisance. People ex rel. Copcutt v. City of Yonkers, 55 St. Rep. 416; affd., 140 N. Y. 1.

An order of a town "board of health declaring a rendering establishment a nuisance and directing the abatement thereof is invalid, and cannot be enforced, it appearing that, before the order was made, no notice was given to the proprietors that they might be heard in their own behalf." Schoepflin et al. v. Calkins et al., 5 Misc. 139; N. Y. C. & H. R. Co. v. Board of Health, 58 Hun, 595; 35 St. Rep. 413; People v. Wood, 62 Hun, 131.

to exercise its authority promptly to suppress the business of the establishment. Weil v. Schultz, 33 How. Pr. 7.

Under a former statute (L. 1885, ch. 270), creating boards of health in towns with power to hear complaints concerning nuisances and to make and enforce orders, a town board of health may lawfully make an order for the suppression and removal of a nuisance consisting of the discharge of sewage on lands of a town by a city. Bell v. City of Rochester, 58 Hun, 602; 11 N. Y. Supp. 305.

The board of health has the power to direct improvements or alterations in existing houses at the expense of the owner where it is necessary to protect and conserve public health, safety, and welfare; but such requirements must not be unreasonable. Health Dept. of N. Y. v. Rector, etc., of Trinity Church, 145 N. Y. 32.

It is the province of the legislature to determine what is best for the public good, and to provide for it by proper enactments. Usually, either by general law or by municipal charters very extensive powers are conferred upon local boards of health, under which, when acting in good faith, they may justify themselves in taking possession of, purifying, or even destroying, the buildings or other property of the citizen when the public health or comfort demands such strong measures. Regan v. Fosdick, 19 Misc. 489, 492. See also Van Wormer v. City of Albany, 15 Wend. 262; Coe v. Schultz, 47 Barb. 64; Met. Board of Health v. Heister, 37 N. Y. 661; Matter of Ryers, 72 N. Y. 7.

In the case last cited, the court said: “There is scarcely an object that has been the subject of more enactments than this, or as to which more power is given to officials over the citizen and his property, and by more summary proceedings.”

A city has no power nor right to take and appropriate the natural and permanent banks of a stream without making the owner compensation therefor. The common council passed resolutions declaring certain obstructions and deposits in an unnavigable stream, not a public highway, within the city limits, which obstructions caused stagnant water to accumulate detrimental to health, and required the same to be removed at the expense of the owners or occupants, and the resolution contained a description of the width and depth of the creek, which was declared to be its natural and normal channel and grade, and that all matter lying in such creek above such grade were obstructions and deposits, and the owner cleaned out the portion of the creek on his land to its normal and natural bed and bank. Afterward the city superintendent entered and cut down the bank and trees growing thereon, and the city brought action to recover the expense thereof. Held, that the action was not maintainable. City of Schenectady, 106 N. Y. 482; 65 St. Rep. 306; affirming 78 Hur. Pr. 227.

The provisions of section 21 of the law, requiring the abatement of nuisances existing within the limits of a town and requiring the board of health to act upon the regulations of the village, shall be brought into the proper relation of the board of health. Board of Magill, 17 App. Div. 249; 45 N. Y. Supp. 305.

In order to sustain an action for the abatement of a nuisance, an order must be made by the board of health upon the occupant or occupants and the premises whereon any such nuisance exists. Eells, 20 St. Rep. 386; 3 N. Y. Supp. 32.

Expenses incurred in abating a nuisance are the property of the board of health of a village and cannot be recovered from the village. Prendergast v. Village of Fishkill, 9 N. Y. 81; 15 St. Rep. 291; 4 St. Rep. 819; 25 Week. Dig. 119.

A board of health has no power to order a building used for driving machinery to be removed as a public nuisance; the proceeding by jury. Rogers v. Barker, 31 Barb. 463; 34 App. Div. 345; 47 N. Y. Supp. (81 St. Rep. 531; 119)

If the owner or occupant of the premises, or his agent, is known, a copy of such notice shall be served upon him, either personally, at least fourteen days previous to the sale, or by mail at least twenty-eight days prior thereto. The term of the sale shall commence when he assumes possession of the premises sold. Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, §§ 5, 7.

A board of health has power to act upon a thing dangerous to public health, but it has no power to assume that all the sinks and privies in a city are or will become nuisances, or dangerous to public health and bind the municipality by its contract for the removal of their contents. Goodrich v. New York, 40 N. Y. 273.

The Public Health Law (§ 30) provides that all expenses incurred by any local board of health in the performance of the duties imposed upon it or its members by law shall be a charge upon the municipality and must be audited, levied, collected, and paid in the same manner as other charges upon the municipality. The Health Law is to be taken in connection with the Village Law. Kent v. Village of North Tarrytown, 50 App. Div. 502, 510; 64 N. Y. Supp. 178.

This provision of the general law must be regarded as in the nature of an amendment to, or at least a part of all municipal charters. The charter of this village, it is true, contains no provision authorizing the trustees to raise money or to contract debts for the purpose of suppressing disease or preserving the public health, but the General Laws of the State make it their duty to comply with the orders of the local board of health in this respect, and when that board incurs expense in the performance of its duty in guarding against the introduction into the village of contagious or infectious diseases or in the isolation of persons or things infected with or exposed to such diseases, or in providing suitable places for the treatment and care of the sick who cannot otherwise be provided for, it becomes the duty of the municipal authorities to comply with the order whether there is any provision for it or not. Matter of Taxpayers of the Village of North Tarrytown.

A drain built under contract with a company designed to abate a nuisance, is a town liability on the part of the members of the board of health. Malloy v. Board of Health, 60 Hun, 627.

Where the bill of a health officer contains a form which indicated that it was an action as a physician and not for his services, it was held, that it was to be viewed by the board of health as a bill of the village and audited at what the reasonable amount, although the bill for services was approved by the board of health. People ex rel. Malloy v. Board of Health of the Village of North Tarrytown, 61 Hun, 2 App. Div. 29; affd., 153 N. Y. 95; Dutcher v. Dutchess Co., 9 Wend. 508.

§ 31. Mandamus.—The performance of any duty enjoined by this article, may be enforced by a mandamus from the supreme court of the state, in the name of the state board of health or of the secretary, or of the local board of health, or of the president or secretary, or of any citizen of the municipality where the duty is to be performed, to the officer or officers charged with its performance.

Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, § 21.

See People ex rel. Boltzer v. Dale, 153 N. Y. 95, under § 20, ante.

Section 21 confers upon the board of health the power to order any person to cease and desist from doing anything which is injurious to the public health, and also for the suppression of contagious or infectious diseases, and for the protection of the public health.

§ 32. Exceptions and limitations.—This article shall not be construed to affect, alter or abridge the duties of the local boards of health in any village, town, or city, as defined by law.
The taxable property of any town board of health shall not be maintained outside of any such village.

§ 31. Mandamus.—The performance of any duty or the doing of any act enjoined, prescribed or required by this article, may be enforced by mandamus at the instance of the state board of health or its president or secretary, or of the local board of health, or of its president or secretary, or of any citizen of full age resident of the municipality where the duty should be performed or the act done.

Revised from L. 1885, ch. 270, § 8.

§ 32. Exceptions and limitations as to cities of New York, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Albany and Yonkers.—This article shall not be construed to affect, alter or repeal laws now in force relating to the boards of health of the cities of New York, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Albany and Yonkers, nor the sanitary codes duly adopted and now in force in such cities.
