

AN INTERESTING Public meeting is being planned two weeks from now at the New Sarpy School auditorium to discuss efforts to get the Lake Pontchartrain Hurricane Protection Levee going again. The levee has been approved by the federal government and by the Pontchartrain Levee Board. Funds totaling $18 million have been committed to the projects. But some foot-dragging allowed the project to get bogged down. Persons calling the meeting would like to get the levee started up again.

A group of interested citizens who want the levee constructed have called a public meeting at the New Sarpy School Auditorium on Thursday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. Concerted action by all concerned citizens is absolutely necessary if the levee is to be constructed. Please make every effort to attend. All monies for the levee are already available--all that is needed now is public support for the levee.
